WOMEN'S CENTER WINTER RETREAT

Friday, February 26 & Saturday, February 27, CRW
The women's community of Princeton Seminary is invited to attend the Women's Center Winter Retreat at which noted author Virginia Ramey Mollenkott will be the keynote speaker.

Mollenkott has prepared two presentations dealing with the feminist appropriation of Scripture as a conscious and deliberate act of revisioning. It will be helpful to those attending to review Mollenkott's book Godding: Human Responsibility and the Bible and Margaret Atwood's novel The Handmaid's Tale.

Lecture I: "A Tale of Two Handmaids"
A focus on the contrast between the character Offred in Atwood's novel and the Virgin Mary as depicted in Luke 1:26-38, followed by discussion on negative trends in society--how to see them and how to counter them.

Lecture II: "Midwifing Justice"
A study of Exodus 1:15-21, including the subversive civil disobedience of Shiphrah and Puah, and of the glorious concept of Wisdom or Sophia in the Hebrew Wisdom Literature. Small group dialogue will follow on the nature and necessity of subverting patriarchy, and of human identity with Sophia/Christ.

(Women's Center Retreat...)

Activities will be held at the Charlotte Newcombe Center at CRW. Cost: $5.00. Some meals will be served at the retreat and lodging arrangements can be made. Please register for the retreat by Wednesday, February 24. Contact Laurie McNeill (683-7452).

ART SHOW

Friday, February 26 - Friday, March 4, Mackay Campus Center
In a continuing celebration of its 175th Anniversary, Princeton will host an art show by nationally known folk artist Maritza Morgan. Morgan uses oil and watercolor mediums on wood and canvas. Her subjects come from Biblical texts, nature, literature, and contemporary life. Using vivid color and dramatic design to portray humor and irony, her work has been described as "whimsical, warm, and wonderful," and Maritza Morgan as a "leading contemporary iconographer." In 1974 Barbara Walters interviewed Morgan on The Today Show.

Seeking to "move away from placid portrayals of Christianity in art to help religion serve as a moving force in society," Ms. Morgan's newest works include paintings that will address the sanctuary movement and women in the church.

ART SHOW

Friday, February 26 - Friday, March 4, Mackay Campus Center

In a continuing celebration of its 175th Anniversary, Princeton will host an art show by nationally known folk artist Maritza Morgan. Morgan uses oil and watercolor mediums on wood and canvas. Her subjects come from Biblical texts, nature, literature, and contemporary life. Using vivid color and dramatic design to portray humor and irony, her work has been described as "whimsical, warm, and wonderful," and Maritza Morgan as a "leading contemporary iconographer." In 1974 Barbara Walters interviewed Morgan on The Today Show.

Seeking to "move away from placid portrayals of Christianity in art to help religion serve as a moving force in society," Ms. Morgan's newest works include paintings that will address the sanctuary movement and women in the church.

She has created several special paintings for the Seminary's show and her work will be available for sale. The show will open with a reception on February 26, at 6:30 p.m.
The exhibit will run:

Saturday, February 27: 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
6:30 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.

Sunday, February 28: 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Monday, February 29 - Friday, March 4: 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

THEATER: BROWER READS ROBERT FROST

WOMEN'S CENTER WINTER RETREAT

Friday, February 26 & Saturday, February 27, CRW

The women's community of Princeton Seminary is invited to attend the Women's Center Winter Retreat at which noted author Virginia Ramey Mollenkott will be the keynote speaker.

Mollenkott has prepared two presentations dealing with the feminist appropriation of Scripture as a conscious and deliberate act of revisioning. It will be helpful to those attending to review Mollenkott's book Godding: Human Responsibility and the Bible and Margaret Atwood's novel The Handmaid's Tale.

Lecture I: "A Tale of Two Handmaids"
A focus on the contrast between the character Offred in Atwood's novel and the Virgin Mary as depicted in Luke 1:26-38, followed by discussion on negative trends in society—how to see them and how to counter them.

Lecture II: "Midwifing Justice"
A study of Exodus 1:15-21, including the subversive civil disobedience of Shiphrah and Puah, and of the glorious concept of Wisdom or Sophia in the Hebrew Wisdom Literature. Small group dialogue will follow on the nature and necessity of subverting patriarchy, and of human identity with Sophia/Christ.

Activities will be held at the Charlotte Newcombe Center at CRW. Cost: $5.00. Some meals will be served at the retreat and lodging arrangements can be made. Please register for the retreat by Wednesday, February 24. Contact Laurie McNeill (683-7452).

THIS WEEK'S EVENTS

ALEXANDER THOMPSON LECTURE

Monday, March 7, Auditorium, 1:30 p.m.
The Reverend Dr. William Sloane Coffin, Jr., will deliver the annual Alexander Thompson Lecture. His topic will be "The Art of Biblical Preaching."

Dr. Coffin was recently named as the president of SANE/FREEZE, concluding 10 years as senior minister of the Riverside Church in New York City. He has been an arduous lecturer throughout the United States on the imperative of reversing the arms race. In 1979 he held Christmas services in Iran for the U.S. Embassy hostages.

Previously, Coffin served as chaplain at Yale University for 18 years, as an advisor to the Peace Corps and as a co-founder of Clergy and Laity Concerned for Vietnam. During World War II he was a liaison officer in the United States Army to the French and Russian armies and from 1950 to 1953 worked abroad for the CIA. His autobiography, Once to Every Man, was published in 1977.

Dr. Coffin will also preach the sermon at the 12:00 noon Service of Worship in Miller Chapel.

SPONSORED BY CONTINUING EDUCATION

William Sloane Coffin's lecture will coincide with a day-long conference at the Seminary called Faithful Resistance and the Limits of Civil Obedience. Established in memory of John T. Conner, a former moderator of the General Assembly, this conference will be led by Sr. Judith Dwyer, assistant professor of moral theology at Weston School of Theology; John Fife, leader of the sanctuary movement and the pastor who was tried by the U.S. government in Tucson, AZ; and Freda A. Gardner, professor of Christian Education at Princeton.

Center of Continuing Education, 3:30 - 9:00 p.m.
The seminar is open to faculty, administrators and seminarians free of charge. Beginning at 3:30 p.m. three lectures will be delivered during the conference:

"Ethical Dimensions of Civil Responsibility," Sr. Judith Dwyer

"Prophetic Community and Civil Initiative," The Reverend John Fife

"Congregational Responses to Issues of Peace and Justice," Dr. Freda A. Gardner

For more information and to register for the conference, call the Center of Continuing Education (921-8198).

U P C O M I N G E V E N T S

THEATER

Tuesday, March 22, Auditorium, 8:00 p.m.
"All That I Am." Roberta Nobleman will play five characters in this dramatization about those who traditionally seem to fall into second place--women: Sarah, the fishwife; Hilde of St. Bremer, the castoff mistress of St. Augustine; the wife of a 12th century priest from Burgandy, France, a victim of the enforcement of the rule of celibacy; Anne Donne, wife of John Donne; Maria Von Wedemeyer, fiance of Dietrich Bonhoeffer.

Ms. Nobleman is an actress, teacher, and author of six books on creative drama, children's theater, and mime. She is known nationally for her solo presentations of "Solo Flight," the courageous story of the Reverend Jeannette Picard, ordained to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church; and "Portraits of Angela," composed of biographical sketches of St. Angela, foundress of the Ursuline Order. Princeton remembers her portrayal of "Julian of Norwich," performed last year at Princeton Seminary. Ms. Nobleman's performance is co-sponsored by the Women's Center and the Seminary's Department of Church History.

THEATER

Tuesday, March 22, Auditorium, 8:00 p.m.

"All That I Am." Roberta Nobleman will bring her dramatization All That I Am to the Seminary community. In her presentation, the actress creates five historical figures: Sarah, the wife of St. Peter; Hilde of St. Bremer, the castoff mistress of St. Augustine; the wife of a 12th century priest from Burgundy, France, a victim of the enforcement of celibacy; Ann Donne, wife of John Donne; and Maria Von Wedemeyer, fiancee of Dietrich Bonhoeffer.

Nancy Malone, the editor of Religion and the Intellectual Life in her review of the play said, "'Behind every great man...'" no longer defines the place of these women. They and their powerful stories have been brought center stage in this historically accurate, beautifully imagined, and compellingly performed drama."

The Princeton community remembers Roberta Nobleman's Julian of Norwich, which she performed last year at Mackay Center. Her performance will be co-sponsored by the PTS Women's Center and the Seminary's Department of Church History.

In 1980 he initiated the bill for the Foreign Affairs Committee establishing the African Development Foundation, which is responsible for delivering U. S. aid to African villages. TICKETS FOR GRADUATION

The scenario at the University Chapel prior to graduation was, for many years, the same. Friendships formed through field education and other parish associations sponsored the coming of many "well-wishers." Bus loads have pulled up an hour before the service. Inevitably Princeton University Chapel is jammed.

Meanwhile graduating folk are hosting their nearest of kin, having breakfast, introducing them to colleagues. Then as parents came to chapel there remained only seats near the rear or with marginal lines of vision. Three years ago we began to offset this disappointment by issuing tickets for family to a reserved section set aside until 9:45 a.m. This year for married students up to five tickets will be given; for those without spouses there will be four reserved section tickets.

Tickets are not needed for admission to Commencement. There will be hundreds of seats available. But this arrangement is meant as a courtesy to immediate family members.

Beginning on Monday, May 9, during office hours, degree recipients can pick up these special tickets at the Student Relations Office, 116 Hodge Hall. They will no longer be available after 12:00 noon, May 26. If you will not be on campus between May 9 and May 26, please make arrangements by May 19 with Mrs. Barbara Balcomb in our office to have tickets mailed to you.
